

The Perspective

Middle School Musings

We are always searching for ways to make the leap to middle school easier for our students. As a result of many building-level committee meetings with input from all stakeholders, a change to the high school was implemented over the summer. Unable to make changes to the existing floorplan, we did the next best thing: several classrooms were moved so that all 7th and 8th grade classes are consolidated in the same wing of the building. This allows easier transition of students from one classroom to another, and minimizes hallway disruptions and exposure to upper classmen.

Bi-weekly meetings are conducted with all middle-school teachers, and monthly assemblies with all students help address concerns, impart important information and keep teachers and administrators visible and engaged with the student body. Finally, all 7th and 8th grade students are required to use locks this year, ensuring the safety of their locker contents and warding off problems before they can begin. We hope that these changes help to create a true middle school experience for our students and will ease the transition from the elementary school to the high school.

Another addition to the middle school is the Capstone program, in which select 8th graders are involved in projects throughout the school year designed to help them think critically, solve challenging problems, and develop skills like oral communication, public speaking, research skills, media literacy, teamwork, planning, self-sufficiency, and goal setting. These are skills that help prepare students for college, careers, and life.

History on Fire

It was no April Fool's joke. On April 1, 1935, a horrible fire swept through the high school, all but destroying the building and contents. June Karbowski, the curator of Schoolhouse #8 in North Collins recently completed a display of artifacts related to that event, which was shown at the Erie County Fair in August. After the fair, she reached out to Mr. Taylor to ask if we would like to display a small portion of the items so visitors could remember this terrible day in the school's history. Next time you're at the high school, stop by to see the pictures and other memorabilia, located across from the main entrance outside the HS auditorium.

High School News

A Word from the High School Principal

Brandon F. Wojcik
Jr. Sr. High School Principal

I can tell you first-hand that the vaping crisis is not an embellishment nor a false alarm. It has become increasingly difficult to distinguish these devices from normal everyday objects and the flavors and design help target our children.

What a great start to the year! This September has been one of the best beginnings I can remember. Our middle school transition program has been a great success, our students seem better prepared to handle lockers, homework and getting to classes on time than in years passed. Our sports teams are doing well, and there are plenty of home games left in the schedule to come out and support them. And of course our homecoming and spirit week were a raging success, the dance was incredible and well attended as always.

I wanted to make sure that everyone is aware of the hard work and dedication that goes into homecoming. This huge undertaking is almost entirely the efforts of our student government led by Morgan Smith, Rachel and Haley Kehr, Henry Jarzynski, and Sabrina Wroblewski. They work under the thoughtful advisement of Mrs. Finkley, Mr. Hider and Mrs. Boulanger, but the lion's share of the legwork is executed by the students. They personally coordinate with local law enforcement agencies, the fire department, local businesses and our local and state governments to secure permits and plans for road closures and safety issues. The skills of collaboration and communication they refine through the process is something that will serve them well in the real world and is not easily replicated in a classroom setting.

Last week, I e-mailed a message from The NYS Poison Center about the vaping crisis taking place among our youth and in our schools. I can tell you first-hand that this is not an embellishment nor a false alarm. I have a large collection of e-cigarettes I've confiscated from kids over the years and use them to educate our incoming students and parents. It has become increasingly difficult to distinguish these devices from normal everyday objects. I've seen e-cigarettes shaped like pens, credit cards, small erasers and flash drives. Each of these is similar to something that a high school student may have in their possession. It's not a stretch to conclude that these devices are targeting our children, not only because of the flavors, but the suspiciously covert nature of the design.

I would also caution you to inspect any suspicious packages your child receives. Many of the students I deal with for vaping issues tell me how they get around the laws for minors buying tobacco products. The most popular way is to buy from a friend, but many tell me they can get a Visa gift card from any convenient store and go online to buy them. According to these kids, they simply click the box certifying they are of a legal age and then enter the credit card number. A few weeks later, the device and supplies show up in the mail, no questions asked.

For more information on the dangers of e-cigarettes and vaping, visit www.CDC.gov/e-cigarettes.

Homecoming Happenings

Homecoming is always preceded by Spirit Week, in which students and staff get to dress up to show their Eagle Pride! This year's Homecoming festivities included 'Merica Monday, Beachers vs. Bikers, Crazy Crocs and Socks, Mathletes vs. Athletes, and of course, the perennial favorite Color War. The week ended with a spirited Pep Rally full of games and fun, and culminated with the annual Homecoming parade in the evening. This year's theme was "Games," so each float was assigned a classic board game, from Monopoly to Guess Who to Clue and more! The classes did an awesome job representing their theme, with the seniors coming out on top as the winner. A bonfire and bounce house followed the parade, while the girls varsity soccer team defeated Silver Creek/Forestville on the turf under the lights by a score of 2-0.

Homecoming weekend continued on Saturday with a number of sporting contests as well as the annual soccer and volleyball alumni games. The weekend wrapped up with the semi-formal Homecoming dance. Check out the pictures from this week of Eagle Pride!

A Note of

Thanks

On behalf of Student Government, we would like to thank our North Collins community for supporting all of our Homecoming events. The excitement was electrifying when seeing the parade route lined with people cheering for all of our participants, the floats and our local fire departments and EMS squad. Thank you for supporting our teams at all the games and buying concessions throughout the weekend. We hope you enjoyed a homecoming and felt a renewal of our small town community spirit.

Paperless Report Cards

High School Only

Over the summer, it was announced that the high school would be transitioning to paperless report cards. A letter was mailed home to all high school parents/guardians to notify you of this change. A paperless system will enable you to see your or your child's grades, assignments and teacher's comments in real time, and also helps the district save money on printing and postage. Your student's grades will be accessible at any time from the PowerSchool Parent Portal. If you are having trouble accessing the portal, please contact the Main Office at 337-0101, ext. 1303 or 1304 for assistance, or with any questions you may have. We appreciate your understanding as we continually look for ways to be more cost efficient for our district residents.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS

A hearing to present information on the District Code of Conduct and the District Safety Plan will be held on Tuesday, October 8 at 7 pm in the Jr.-Sr. High School Library-Media Center.

All are welcome to attend.

7th Graders Nail It!

Mr. Manchester's 7th grade Technology Class had a discussion on the mechanics of pressure points recently. To illustrate the lesson, students got the opportunity to recline on a real bed of nails! While one nail would surely puncture the skin and hurt you, an entire bed ensures that the pressure from one's own bodyweight is spread across the entire surface. No one nail is strong enough to cause harm, and sleeping on a bed of nails doesn't hurt at all! The students, including Liam Cosandier (above), were fascinated by this display while learning a great deal about force, pressure and mechanics. Hands-on learning is always the best lesson!

2019-2020 SAT Registration and Test Dates

The SAT is a globally-recognized college admission test that lets students show colleges what they know and how well they can apply that knowledge. It tests their knowledge of reading, writing and math—subjects that are taught every day in high school classrooms. Most students take the SAT during their junior or senior year of high school, and most college and universities use SAT test results to make admission decisions.  Other test centers may be available; please consult our website for a full list, or check online at collegeboard.org.*

PSAT Testing

The Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) is a program co-sponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). It's a standardized test for high school juniors that provides firsthand practice for the SAT. It also gives students a chance to enter NMSC scholarship programs and gain access to college and career-planning tools.

The 2019 PSAT/NMSQT test date for North Collins is Wednesday, October 16. Unlike SAT exams, the PSAT is only offered once during the school year, so students are encouraged not to miss it.

The test will be administered to all juniors during regular school hours. There is no fee to take the exam.

If you have any questions, please contact the Guidance Office at 337-0101, ext. 1310.

College-Planning Timeline

It's never too early to begin planning for your future. Students who hope to attend are encouraged to plan ahead to make the most of their choices. Consult the timeline below to see if you're on track with your college plan. Remember you can always speak to a guidance counselor at any time to discuss your options.

Grade 7-8

- Talk to friends and family members about careers and possible school choices.
- Consult with your middle and high school counselors to find out which courses you should take that will qualify you to attend certain colleges and/or career fields.
- Discuss your financial situation with your parents to see how they can assist you in paying for education. Work together to establish a savings plan in which you can participate.
- Learn about financial aid options available from your counselor.
- Join and participate in clubs, organizations and volunteer experiences.

Freshman Year

- Build a flexible schedule allowing for study time, extracurricular activities, and other interests. Stay organized with a day planner.
- Make a 4-year schedule of classes that increases your eligibility to attend the college of your choice.
- Start developing a resume by keeping a scrapbook of your accomplishments, including articles about yourself, awards you have won, and activities in which you have participated.
- Find out about summer jobs and how to gain the skills necessary to obtain one. Look into volunteer opportunities that will expand your experience and skills.
- Take your parents with you to talk to your counselor about your interests, post-secondary plans, and career information.
- If you plan to pursue athletics while in college, check out the NCAA requirements.

Sophomore Year

- Visit your school counselor or college counseling office and explore college catalogs, websites, and other college materials including financial aid information. Plan to attend our school's college visits to speak with college recruiters in person about their program offerings.
- Reevaluate your high school course selection to make sure it meets college requirements.
- Try to complete most of your academic requirements by your junior year.

Junior Year

Fall (August through December)

- Take the PSAT in October to help prepare you for college entrance exams. The PSAT may also qualify you for certain scholarships.
- Attend sessions with college representatives who visit your high school or visit local college fairs.
- Develop a list of possible post-secondary schools. Your counseling office and/or school library may have book and materials to help you. The internet will be your friend in this process.
- Talk with an admissions counselor to determine if there are any institutional scholarships for which you could apply.
- Begin researching private sources of financial aid. Many community foundations, civil and fraternal organizations offer scholarships for post-secondary education, but you need to apply for them. Also, check online through fastweb.com and other scholarship resources.

Spring (January through May)

- Take the SAT/ACT. Check with your intended college(s) about which test they prefer and what scores you need for admission and scholarship consideration. Begin narrowing down your choices.
- Schedule campus visits, including overnight visits to get a feel for life on that particular campus.
- Check with your counselor, libraries, community organizations, and Student Outreach Services for the names and addresses of possible scholarship sources. Keep track of due dates and deadlines.

Summer (entering Senior Year)

- Practice writing online applications without submitting them. Ask others to proof them, especially the essay.
- Read all college mail and send replay cards back to schools of interest.
- Apply for scholarships with deadlines in the fall; you may be too busy once school starts.

Senior Year

Fall (August through December)

- Make sure you continue to meet high school graduation and college admission requirements.
- Apply for financial aid by completing and submitting your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon after October 1 as possible. The FAFSA is available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Ask for assistance through college Financial Aid Offices.
- The information you receive back after the FAFSA is processed is the Student Aid Report (SAR). If any portion of the information on the SAR is incorrect, correct it and resubmit it to the processing center.
- Submit any additional financial aid forms and documentation that is required by the school of your choice, including if you have been selected for Verification. Some of these forms may be available online, including the FAFSA and some admission applications.
- Register for the Advanced Placement (AP) exams, if enrolled.
- Meet with visiting admissions representatives from the schools that interest you.
- Arrange visits to schools you are considering and schedule admissions interviews, if required.
- Make the financial preparation of your portfolios, audition videos, writing samples, or other evidence of talent required for admission and/or scholarships. Finalize your resume to send with your applications.
- Take or retake the SAT or ACT.
- Identify at least two of the following to write solid recommendations forms for you: a teacher, an extracurricular advisor, a counselor, a principal, or any employer. Give the recommendation forms to teachers, counselors, etc. at least one month before they are due. Follow up on the progress of these recommendations.
- Submit your college applications. Apply to more than one school to increase your odds of admission. Be careful of submission deadlines!
- Talk with your parents about what type of budget you'll be on your freshman year.
- If seeking athletic scholarships (Div. I & II schools only), contact the coaches from the schools you are considering and include a resume of your accomplishments.

Spring (January through May)

- Call the schools you have applied to and confirm receipt of your application materials, including letter of recommendation and housing applications.
- Request that your counselor send a copy of your transcript to the school where you have applied. Make sure your first semester senior year grades are included on the transcript.
- Notify the school(s) in writing by the proper deadline as to whether you are accepting or declining admission.
- Review your financial aid award letter with your parents and be sure you understand the terms and conditions that accompany each kind of aid.
- Notify the financial aid office of any outside scholarships or grants that you have accepted since your initial application.
- Be aware of the due dates for tuition, fees, room and board, and other expenses. Find out how your financial aid will be disbursed and whether you can defer payments until the funds are available.
- Respond immediately to all correspondence regarding school, scholarships, and financial aid.
- Participate in summer orientation programs for incoming freshmen after graduation to ensure you are prepared for entering your first semester and have completed all necessary steps at your college.

Flu vs. Cold — Can You Tell the Difference?

As we move into the fall season, it is important to remember that the cooler temperatures and changing leaves may also bring more cases of the flu. According to the CDC, influenza (also known as “flu”) is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses. The signs and symptoms often range from mild to severe and often come on very quickly. The flu can even cause complications that may result in death. See the chart for how to tell the difference between the Flu vs. Cold.

Getting the flu vaccine can increase the likelihood of not becoming infected with the flu or at least lessening the symptoms. The CDC advises those 6 months and older to get the vaccination. It is extremely important for those with compromised immune systems or underlying health conditions to also get vaccinated as those individuals are more at risk for developing complications from the flu.

It is important to call your doctor if you think you or a family member has the flu, a high fever or is not drinking enough.

Welcome Back!

We hope everyone has enjoyed their summer and found ways to stay cool from the heat. It is great to be back and we are looking forward to another wonderful school year.

If your child is in grades K-3- they have gym EVERY DAY, please make sure they have their sneakers with them all year long. We also highly encourage if your child is wearing a dress to school, have them wear shorts underneath.

If your child is in grades 4-6, they will need to bring the following items for PE class:

- Sneakers (secured tightly)
- Change of clothes (both top and bottom)
- deodorant
- Extra socks and old sneakers if possible
- plastic bag to take clothes home in
- zip lock baggie for jewelry to be kept in

If your child is unprepared for class they will participate that day in a modified fashion (their grade will be reduced for that day). If your child is unprepared 3 times in a quarter it will result in a drop of a letter grade. If your child can't participate in PE Class a note must be written and signed by a parent/ legal guardian to be excused for that day. If it will be an extended length of time (more than one day), a note from their doctor must be brought into school and given to the nurse.

The students are currently involved in soccer, football. We look forward to a fun exciting year!
